

- What was sacrificed in the story?
The kings sacrificed his toys.
- Was it hard for the character to make a sacrifice and give something special up?
It was hard for him to give up his toys.
- How did they feel?
They felt happy to make others happy.
- What was the result of making the sacrifice? What happened in the end?
He was given a quilt.
- What can we learn from the story?
We can learn that when we make others happy we get happy.
- What can we remember in terms of making sacrifices ourselves?
When we make others happy we get happy.
- Have you ever made a sacrifice like the one mentioned in the story?
Yes I gave lots of toys to my sister when she was younger.
- What do you currently do in your community to connect with others?
Nothing I guess.
- How else could you connect with your community so you and others could benefit?
I could offer to do the lawns for my elderly neighbor.
- What sacrifices could you make for the benefit of your family or others?
I could give my time to help my mum to jobs around the house.